CHRISTMAS 2008

New from Corflex...

Coming soon from Corflex is the new Prodigy Ankle Brace.

The Prodigy Ankle Brace combines the support of an ankle stirrup with the comfort of a lace-up ankle brace.

Constructed of semi-rigid contoured shells, the Prodigy provides maximum support and protection. Its dense foam interior pads cushion the ankle to provide optimal comfort. The step-in design, neoprene foot liner and contact closure straps allow for quick and easy application.

Ideal for treatment of chronic or acute ankle instability and, the Prodigy Ankle Brace is available in 3 sizes.

Now in stock is another innovative new product from Corflex; the Pressure Reduction Insole.

This product is designed to off-load the plantar aspect of the foot for faster healing after surgery, trauma or when wounds are present.

Ideal for post surgical care, pain management and wound care for diabetic ulcers, the Pressure Reduction Insole features peps that can be removed to reduce pressure. A simple-to-use marking tube that allows you to mark the area of pressure reduction to ensure proper pep removal is included. The Pressure Reduction Insole by Corflex easily fits into Walkers and PostOp shoes for optimal shock absorption and moldability and is available in 5 sizes.

A New Cooltex Addition...

The new and very popular Cooltex line of neoprene alternative products by Corflex is expanding.

New to the line is a 16-inch Anterior Knee Wrap with range-of-motion hinges which is ideal for those patients who require both a post-surgical as well as a functional knee brace as the hinges can be adjusted from a set position to one with full range of motion.

Custom Knee Brace Update...

The reviews are in on the new hinges for the custom braces by VQ Orthocare...and it's all good!

The Eagle and Eagle OA braces by VQ Orthocare now feature a much lower profile hinge which fits nicely beneath clothing and hockey equipment.

Patients are finding the hinges more free-flowing and customers find the new extension stop mechanism much easier to manage.

12 Easy to Follow Tips for Healthy Holiday Eating

Once again it's time for festivities and feasting. Here are 12 ways to enjoy healthy eating this holiday season - at home, at the office and with friends.

- 1 Do some pre-holiday planning. Decide ahead of time how you will handle the different events of the season, plan healthy meals and get exercise every day.
- 2 Eat a snack before going to a party. Have a yogurt or fruit, low-fat cheese or vegetables so hunger won't rule your choices.
- 3 Indulge! No need to do without your favourite foods, just take smaller portions and eat slowly!
- 4 Stand far away from the buffet table. Take your plate into another room and enjoy talking with friends.
- 5 If you're invited to a friend's house, take a plant or nice soap instead of candy or goodies.
- 6 Chew gum while cooking or baking to stop mindless nibbling.
- 7 After the party, send leftovers home with friends or freeze in smaller meals.
- 8 If there are treats at the office, put them in a place where you can't easily see them, or donate gift baskets to a food bank.
- 9 Avoid those guilty pleasures you can have anytime like chips or chocolate and eat small portions of seasonal favourites.
- 10 Be the designated driver. Enjoy one alcoholic drink and then stick to sparkling water.
- 11 Eat slowly at a sit-down dinner. Talk between bites so your meal will last longer and split a dessert with someone else.
- 12 Give guilt a vacation this season! If you overeat, don't worry; you'll have lots of time in the new year to get back on track.
